EVERY DETAIL PERFECTED FOR MONSTER CELEBRATION MONDAY.

Parade Promises to Be One of the Largest Ever Held in Connellsville and a Great Day is Anticipated.

MANY SOCIETIES TO PARADE

Ex-Mayor W. H. Coleman of McKeesport Will Deliver Fourth of July Address—Fireworks To Take Place Along Willis Road.

Everything is in readiness for a bang-up, rattling, rizzling Fourth of July celebration here next Monday and indications are that all other affairs of the kind in this section will be relegated to the background, put to the tail timbers, as it were. There will be side shows in Uniontown and Scottsdale, but for the show-pure article, the crowds know where to find it and Greater Connellsville will do the major share of the entertaining.

So confident is he of the fact that immense crowds will turn out, Superintendent J. W. Brown of the West Penn has made arrangements to more than double the trolley service in that section on that day. As on all holidays, the running time will be cut down to some degree, but extra cars and double headers will be operated whenever necessary.

The coke region will have the usual high class trolley service on that day and it will be a gala day for the extra men, all of whom will be in harness. All the equipment of the West Penn for holiday use will be placed in service.

Every detail of the celebration here has been completed and from the time the main street salute is fired Monday morning until the "Good Night" set piece of the fireworks display fades into darkness, there will be something doing.

Chief Marshall J. M. Reid and his aides met last evening and mapped out the details of the parade. The police, with their new helmets, will lead the procession, followed by the firemen. The Grand Marshal and his aides follow these, after whom come the soldiers of Company D, the Hospital Corps and the old Connellsville Grays.

Burgess Evans, members of Town Council and veterans of the Civil War will ride in cabs. The following fraternal orders and societies will follow the cabs: Knights of Malta, Central Trades and Labor Council, Boys' Brigade of the Y. M. C. A., Red Men, Polish Independent Political Club, St. Michael's Association Branch No. 295, Polish National Alliance, Adelaide Roman and Greek Catholic Society, Lelanching Y. Archduke Sleik Benefit Society of Lelanching No. 3, St. Michael's Slavish Catholic Society of New Haven; Branch 108, I. K. S. J. W. E. M. K. B. S. E. C. White and others.

The parade will follow the foreign orders after which will come the fantastic division, and the floats. The automobile division will conclude the line of march.

The parade will form on North Pittsburg street and the streets leading into it. The line will march up Pittsburg to Main, across to Sixth street, West Side, down Sixth to Mason avenue, to Ninth street, to Lelanching avenue, to Eighth street, to Main, West Side, to Pittsburg street, East Side, to Crawford avenue, to Vine street, to Cedar avenue, to Pittsburg street, disbanding near the center of the city.

Ex-Mayor W. H. Coleman of McKeesport will be the principal orator of the day and the Speaker's Committee is arranging to secure other orators. The speaking will be done from the High School and library lawns after the parade has passed.

The various athletic events are to be pulled off in the morning and afternoon. At 3 o'clock there will be a baseball game between Connellsville and Uniontown, always a strong drawing card. During the day there will be dancing at the Armory, which will continue at night. Chairman J. G. Gorman of this committee has so-cured Kiferle's orchestra for the occasion. In the evening there will be a fine fireworks display from an excellent point of vantage along Willis Road. The display is such that it can be seen from all parts of town and there is no necessity for anyone to travel to the East Park addition unless they so desire. The display will start at 9:15.

All candidates for the Marathon prizes will report at 8:30 in front of the Columbia hotel, Main street. The prizes will be paid immediately after each race is concluded.

The members of Town Council, some of whom were slighted upon not receiving engraved invitations, are especially requested to meet at City Hall at 8:30, where cars will wait for them.

Owing to the defection of the Italian Band, West Ridenour's Drum Corps has been secured to participate in the parade. Some friction developed among the Italians and they decided not to appear.

The following additional subscriptions were received this morning: Brewers' Association, $50; R. B. Langhrey, $25; J. D. Madigan, $25; B. P. Boyer, $10; L. F. Ruth, $10; W. L. Leche, $10; E. K. Dick, $10; Jos. Solsen, $5; West Penn Electric Company, $25.

Next Tuesday afternoon the committee will meet to compile a comprehensive financial statement, which will be made public. The balloon ascension will be a big attraction. There will be two ascensions, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. One of the balloons to be used participated in the St. Louis race last year and finished second.

BUILDING BIG BRIDGE OVER AT YOUNGWOOD

Will Be 600 Yards Long Covering Railroad Yard, a Sulphur Creek and Trolley Tracks.

One of the largest bridges in Westmoreland county is now under construction at Youngwood. The bridge is being erected across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks beginning at Main street and extending across the West Penn trolley tracks. It is probably 600 yards long. The structure of the bridge is a mixture of iron and cement. Hard wood railings are also used. The floor of the bridge is stone and two heavy rollers have made them nearly as good as macadam. The driveway is 24 feet wide, while two walks each six feet wide make the bridge 36 feet wide. The bridge is about 50 feet high at its highest point and covers eight railroad tracks, a sulphur creek, West Penn car tracks, two public roads and terminates on an embankment on the west side that is being cut away. The West Penn cars will pass under the bridge when it is completed, which will be some time in August. Nedman & Son of Philadelphia have the contract and, although work was not started until April 1, by employing a large force of men the contractor has succeeded in pushing the work along rapidly. The same contractor is building a smaller bridge along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks that extends for nearly one-half a mile.

WOMAN COMMITTED TO JAIL FOR 30 DAYS

Mary Freeman of Mt. Braddock Prosecuted by Mrs. Koss for Disorderly Conduct.

Mary Freeman of Mt. Braddock was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Squire P. M. Buttermore of the West Side and committed to jail for 30 days on a charge of disorderly conduct. The charge was preferred by Mrs. Koss, also of Mt. Braddock. Mrs. Koss alleged that on June 30 the defendant called her ugly names and was very disorderly. The arrest was made by Constable William Roland of Dunbar township.

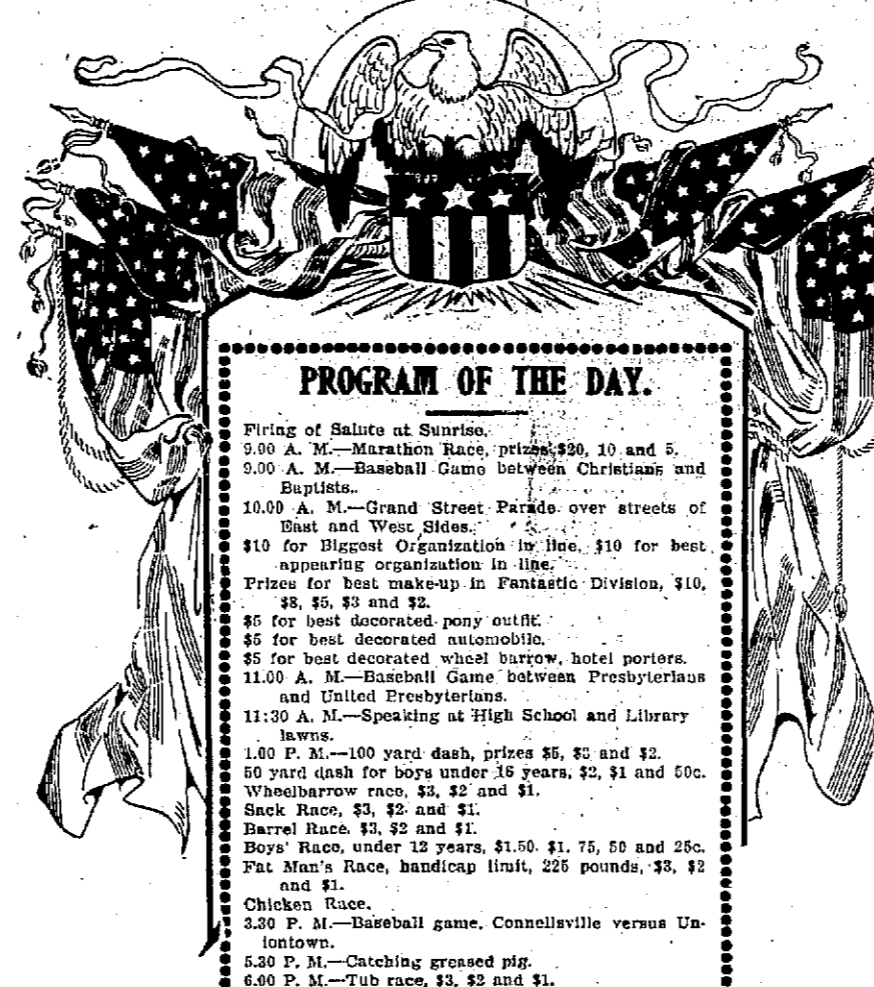

There is no change in the machine strike. The report that helpers had stopped work is not true.

Loud and Unnecessary Whistling Must Cease Say B. & O. Officials.

Baltimore & Ohio officials are aroused over the loud and unnecessary whistling that has been indulged in at night lately by engine crews. The complaints against it have become so loud and this appeals so many that it will have to cease.

W. O. Schoenover, chief clerk to Division Superintendent J. J. Driscoll, was asked this morning if anything had been done by the officials to stop the annoying nuisances. "No, we have a standing rule regarding whistling and we intend to call engineers' attention to it rather stoutly this time. This notification will be made in a few days."

The upper yards seem to be the most annoying place, and it is generally agreed that all the whistling that goes on there is unnecessary. Several nights this week the people not only of the South Side, but in the central portion of the town have been unable to sleep on account of the constant racket. Much whistling is also indulged in by engineers coming into the yards from the West. The officials of the railroad company declare that this must cease, as they do not think it is at all necessary.

The job was not ready so the three men went in swimming during the afternoon. Burns was drowned and his body was recovered this morning. It was taken to Masontown and will be shipped to Pittsburg.

FOURTH OF JULY AT MILL RUN TODAY

Mountain Town Is in Gala Attire and a Big Crowd Is Celebrating the Day.

The grand and glorious Fourth is being appropriately observed today at Mill Run. The little town is in gala attire for the occasion and the entire day will be one great holiday. All the business places have been closed for the day and amusements of all kinds have been arranged. Crowds from neighboring towns commenced to arrive early this morning to assist in the celebration.

There will be a balloon ascension, a baseball game between the home team and a picked team of Ohio, lots of music, dancing for the young, foot races, sack races, etc. This evening there will be a grand display of fireworks.

WOMAN COMMITTED TO JAIL FOR 30 DAYS

Mary Freeman of Mt. Braddock Prosecuted by Mrs. Koss for Disorderly Conduct.

Mary Freeman of Mt. Braddock was given a hearing yesterday afternoon before Squire P. M. Buttermore of the West Side and committed to jail for 30 days on a charge of disorderly conduct. The charge was preferred by Mrs. Koss, also of Mt. Braddock. Mrs. Koss alleged that on June 30 the defendant called her ugly names and was very disorderly. The arrest was made by Constable William Roland of Dunbar township.

RAILROAD'S BIRTHDAY.

TEACHERS ARE GIVEN ROOMS.

Assignments for Ensuing School Year Are Made Public Today.

BUT FEW CHANCES ARE MADE

Borough Superintendent Deffenbaugh Returned Most of the Old Teachers to the Rooms They Had Last Year. Second Ward Shifted Some.

Superintendent of Schools W. S. Deffenbaugh this morning gave out the list of teachers' assignments for the ensuing year. The only change among the teachers of last year is in the Second Ward, where it will be necessary to have two primary grades. Last year the primary room in this school had over 80 pupils, which was entirely too many. The No. 1 room will not be over-crowded, but it will be necessary to have two rooms for No. 2. Miss Carrie Kenyon will have the first grade, Elizabeth Guller and Harriet Minder, the second grade, Miss Mary Parkhill the third, O. P. Moser his old room, No. 4, Bessie Artis No. 5, Katherine Francis No. 5. (Continued on Second Page.)

Captain Archibald Butt, his military aide, and Assistant Secretary Mischler. The President will go to Norwich, Conn., Sunday evening to attend the celebration of the two hundred and fifth anniversary of the foundation of the town.

On the fifth he will go to Fort Ticonderoga and then to Plattsburg on the sixth and seventh to attend the tercentennial celebration in New York State.

SCOTSDALE BOY INJURED.

Charge of Dynamite Explodes Striking Russell Graft.

SCOTSDALE, July 3.—By an explosion of dynamite Russell Graft, aged 17, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Graft, of the White school, was terribly injured while working at a quarry near Jacobs Creek church, at 11 o'clock today. It is feared that he will lose his sight. He was removing the tamping from a dynamite charge that had failed to explode, when the accident occurred, in blasting work on the East Huntingdon township road. Drs. L. T. Gilbert and C. W. McKee attended him.

CARBONATER EXPLODES; MAN SERIOUSLY HURT

Roy E. Maple Who Intended to Close Shop and Go West for Health Injured on Last Day.

FAIRCHANCE, July 3.—Roy E. Maple began his last day's work in his confectionery store here this morning. Tonight he was to have closed up and make preparations for going west for his health. The fates smiled otherwise, however, for about 8:30, as he was charging the soda fountain, the carbonater exploded and inflicted injuries which may prove fatal.

Maple sustained a shattered right leg and had his right arm broken in two places, besides sustaining other injuries. The store was badly damaged. Miss Mozelle Darby, who worked in the establishment, had just stepped outside as the explosion occurred and escaped injury.

The injured man was taken to the Uniontown hospital where his recovery is a matter of doubt. He also owned a store at Star City, where his father, Joseph Maples, was in charge. A man named Dunn had taken over the store and was to have started business there Monday.

FUNERAL OF CARLOS D. NORTON.

The body of the late Carlos D. Norton arrived here this morning from Denver, Col., and was removed to J. E. Sims' rooms on North Pittsburg street, later being removed to the home of E. T. Norton on East Main street, from which place the funeral will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment in Hill Grove Cemetery. Mr. Norton is an uncle of the deceased.

ON SERIOUS CHARGE.

Thomas McCune, of Bradford, was arrested at Dickerson Run on a serious charge preferred by R. Potliss, father of Rosie Potliss, a 14-year-old McKeesport girl.

WARMER THAN YESTERDAY.

In spite of the cool air which blew the mercury stood at 72 this morning, against 68 yesterday at the same time. Last evening 84 was snapped at the West Penn weather works.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETS, TALKS, AND DOES A LITTLE BUSINESS.

It Was a Long Drawn Out Session With Lots of Oratorical Fireworks During the Evening.

MAN STILL UNDER DOCK.

Four Dead and Fourteen Injured By Collapse of Dock.

NEW FORT, Wales, July 3.—(Special.)—Forty men are still entombed under the collapsed walls, earth and machinery at Alexandra dock, which collapsed late yesterday. The rescuers worked all night and have removed four dead and fourteen injured. Many of the latter will die. Others are buried under five feet of earth and debris and there is little hope that any are living. Nine men were found pinned on the edges of the heap practically unhurt.

CHILDREN WILL DIE.

Man Who Attacked Wife Also Injured Children.

CLEVELAND, O., July 3.—(Special.)—Report from the hospital today says the children of Foster Shy, the negro who last night murdered his wife and brutally attacked his two small children, and cannot recover. Their death is momentarily expected. Shy is held in jail and refused to make any statement about the tragedy.

TEN DAYS FOR THEM.

POWELL IS ON HIS WAY HERE TO JOIN COKERS

First Baseman is Recommended Highly By Man Who "Discovered" Dutch Myers.

Manager Alex Sweeney received a telegram today from George Y. Travis of East Liverpool, O., the man who "discovered" Dutch Myers, to effect that Earl Powell, late of Bridgeport, Conn., left East Liverpool at noon today to join the Cokers. Powell is a first baseman and brother of Bill Powell, now pitching for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Travis knows baseball and knows players, and is also a great friend of Alex Sweeney. When the Cokers went against a hard luck game of football, Travis was appealed to. Although none of the local people know Powell, Manager Sweeney says "If Travis recommends him he will make good."

It was also announced today that in order to relieve congestion at the gate Monday afternoon, admission tickets will be placed on sale at the following points Monday morning: J. H. Doyle, Hotel Wyman, Hotel Columbia, Hotel Heast, Hotel Royal, Smith House, H. E. Brown, S. F. Hood and Graham's Pharmacy.

The tickets for Monday's game at 50 cents, the Fourth of July game being the only contest of the year where the holiday price is charged. The receipts in all the towns will be pooled on that day.

CUTICURA REMEDIES ENTIRELY CURED HER

"About two years ago I contracted eczema and suffered intensely for about ten months. At last I thought I would scratch myself to pieces. My face and arms were covered with large red patches. My skin became so itchy that I was obliged to go to a doctor who was a specialist in skin diseases, but I received very little relief. I tried every known remedy, with the same result. I thought I would never get better until a friend of mine told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. So I tried them as the last resource, and I am very glad that I did, for after four or five applications of Cuticura Ointment I was relieved of my unbearable itching. I used two sets of the Cuticura Remedies (Soap, Ointment and Pills) and I am completely cured. I always recommend Cuticura to any one that is suffering and in every case it cures. Miss Barbara Kral, 629 Mt. Pleasant Ave., Highlandtown, Md., Jan. 9, '08."

Fretful Babies Suffering from Skin Humors, Soothed to Sleep by Cuticura.

A warm bath with Cuticura Soap and a gentle anointing with Cuticura Ointment, purest and sweetest of emollients, afford immediate relief in the most distressing forms of itching, burning, scaly and crusted humors, eczema, rashes, inflammations, irritations and eruptions of infancy and childhood, permit rest and sleep and point to a speedy cure when all other remedies fail. Guaranteed absolutely pure and may be used from the hour of birth.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, are sold everywhere. Write for free booklet, "How to Cure Your Baby's Skin." Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, are sold everywhere. Write for free booklet, "How to Cure Your Baby's Skin."

"THE GLORIOUS FOURTH"

WHO hasn't seen the silver-tongued orator of his town mount the platform on a hot Fourth of July day and begin: "When, in the course of human events," etc.? Every one has been among those present on these time-honored occasions.

A splendid picture, illustrating a good, old-fashioned Independence Day meeting, is shown here. It includes a lot of old acquaintances. There is the orator—you can call him by name; the small boy at the corner of the platform who has recently lost a battle with a giant freerack and is waiting anxiously for the end of the reading and the beginning of the pie-eating contest; the members of the Independent Cornet Band, who are very important people on a day like this; the staunch patriot radiating heat in the foreground; the good farmer and his good wife who holds a basket that makes you hungry; the parson, the village boss. Anyone can go through the picture and pick them out.

This illustration of a celebration of the Nation's birthday is the work of Samuel Nelson Abbott, and was made for Hart, Schaffner & Marx of Chicago, makers of the celebrated Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes for men, is on exhibition in the window of Wertheimer Bros., who are the local agents for this line of clothing.

Full line of Men's cool underwear. Scrivens Union Suits, B. V. D. Union Suits and separate shirts and drawers, knee length. Poros Knit in long and short union suits and two-piece suits. Newest Neckwear and Hosiery at popular prices.

INDEPENDENCE DAY AND WHAT IT MEANS.

There is no national holiday that appeals more strongly to the American citizen than Independence Day and in the American calendar no holiday is observed with half the enthusiasm. The fact is creditable to American citizenship and bright with American hope. The day marks the birth of this nation, the greatest republic the world ever knew, and so long as its citizens recall year by year its history and its principles and renew their allegiance thereto, the nation has little to fear from traitors within or enemies without.

Rome ruled the world in its day, but it ceased to be a republic, and it lost the virtue strength which government by the fittest insure. That world in the Roman day was of limited area compared with the world of the present. The Roman policy was that of expansion by invasion; the American policy is expansion by benevolent assimilation. Rome was a heartless conqueror; America is always the advance guard of civilization, the champion of humanity, seeking the common good. Rome numbered its slaves by the millions, and they were white, black and yellow; America ceased some thirty years ago to countenance any form of slavery, and the re-education was effected at a frightful cost of blood and treasure. It was the vindication of the republic. Rome held in subjugation and looted tribute on all conquered nations; the policy of the United States is that of protection and the encouragement of self-government.

The principles of the American republic are so broad and free, so just and generous, that they attract communities rather than repel them. This nation has grown great within itself, not by foreign conquest. Its latest war was a war of liberation. Cuba and the Philippines were wrested from the yoke of Spain. It has already headed the former over to its own people for self-government, and it only awaits the day when the Philippines shall have become sufficiently educated to govern themselves to give them that which they have never known, their own sovereignty. The foreign policy of the American nation is the Brotherhood of Man rather than the Spoils of Conquest. Its strength lies in its righteousness and its loyalty to the principles upon which it was founded and which it has more than a century maintained in their integrity.

From thirteen struggling colonies stretched along the Atlantic Coast, warred upon in front by the army and navy of Great Britain and stabbed in the back by murderous Indians, this nation asserted against appalling odds the independence we annually celebrate. It was able to do so only because its citizens were patriots, strong of body and stout of soul, who fought with undaunted determination for homes and freedom. God gave the Thirteen Colonies men of heroic mould and in doing so gave them victory.

Among these men history places first George Washington and not far away from him William Crawford, Pioneer and Patriot. In honoring Independence Day we cannot too highly honor the names of both these men. Washington was one of the Fathers of the Republic and also its peculiar Savior. In this patriotic task he was ably assisted by Colonel Crawford, the companion of his youth, the friend of his after years, his able lieutenant in the struggle against British Imperialism.

On this Day of Days it should not be forgotten that Connelville's first citizen was a large factor in the nation's birth and ordaining, and that to its Expansion he was a Martyr.

HOW THINGS ARE BEING RUN.

The Town Councilmen and the School Directors who say they never get any notice of the Library meetings had better investigate the post-office. Such notices are always mailed. Perhaps the matter can be better tested by sending registered notice out the next time.

There is, however, nothing about the Library business which any trustee has not a right to know at board meetings or between times. Directors have a right of access to all the records of the Library at all reasonable times.

The Town Council and the School

Board have in recent years been lax in filling their vacancies on the Library board, and those who have been appointed to represent these bodies have been very lax in attendance on the Library meetings.

The trustees themselves have not been eager in their meetings. They have been without much encouragement to meet. Their gatherings usually resolve themselves into despairing ways and means committee meetings to devise some way of satisfying existing indebtedness caused by the insufficient maintenance appropriated and the indifferent manner in which it is paid over.

We assure Trustee Darr that he will be twice welcome at the next meeting of the Library trustees, and that they will take great pleasure in showing him "how things are being run."

A SAFE AND SANE INDEPENDENCE DAY.

The proclamation of Burgess Evans is reasonable and just. It does not betray a desire to circumscribe patriotic enthusiasm or to restrain the ardor of youth, but only to protect the public against unnecessary and incalculable misfortunes.

The edit against the discharge of anti-aircrafting explosives during the parade is only a reasonable precaution against loss of life or serious injury to those who are riding or driving horses.

In this connection it may be well to observe that the Burgess of Uniontown has issued an order even more drastic. The discharge of disturbing explosives is prohibited there from 10 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening.

It is to be hoped that everybody will recognize the necessity of Burgess Evans' proclamation and respect it accordingly. A little reflection will convince the most enthusiastic Independence Day rooster of the wisdom of it.

The weather predictions are for brisk and high northwesterly winds on Sunday. If such weather prevails Monday morning, the reckless use of fireworks will have to be sternly repressed to avoid the danger of conflagration.

There's more fun in fantastic parades than in fireworks. Loud noises and dangerous explosives are not attractive to wholesome people who appreciate real joy.

Uniontown boasts of having more money for its celebration than Connelville, but it won't have any more fun.

The City Fathers will ride in cabs. It will take more cabs this year, Connelville is Greater.

We hope the Councilmen won't fight as they ride.

It will be a great Fourth on the Fifth at the Center.

The Connelville postoffice would have made a better showing if it had bought some of its stamps here.

Fayette county was strictly in it at the meeting of the Pennsylvania Bar Association. Good people can't be kept down.

A San Francisco reporter cleared up a murder mystery. Here's a pointer for the County Commissioners. Better send a couple of reporters to the blood-hound brigade.

The Somerset girls are getting ready to conquer the heroes.

The colored preacher accused of robbing a Lower Connelville region farmer will not be permitted to plead the benefit of clergy.

The Somerset man who gave to a prospective purchaser a deed for his farm for the purpose of examination, and subsequently found the deed on record, is now thoroughly convinced that it isn't safe to take the word for the deed.

The backbone of the hot wave has been broken, let us hope past all mending this summer.

The cops will not only get their spending money for the Furious Fifth, but they have the promise of new lids on top.

The State Fish Commission will find it difficult to keep the bass and trout in their respective reservations.

Some of the Pop Gun papers can't find anything to talk about but their imaginary greatness. Let the Pop Gun papers. They are not half so dangerous as the fire-cracker.

"Cornell sweeps the river" we are told. Must be a more dusty river than the Yough.

Uncle Jim Wilson says all his meat inspectors are honest men. He seems to have overlooked the one inspector who said the others were not honest.

West Virginia's Coal Interests.

Coal goes into the Senate Tariff bill with a protective duty of 50 cents a ton. This is only about 10 per cent. less than the present duty and indicates a decided attempt for the West Virginia Senators and other representatives of coal interests in their fight to secure an adequate protection for their great industry. It will be remembered that the Payne bill put coal upon the free list and the bill passed the house containing that provision, unopposed at least so far as West Virginia is concerned. What will be the final figure at which the duty will be placed is still a matter of conjecture. The result will be reached by compromise between the Senate and the House, but it is reasonably certain that a considerable duty will be placed upon coal. The latter coal interests of this State will be the beneficiaries.

West Virginia is the second coal producing State in the Union. While its annual output is large, there is still an enormous acreage of coal in West Virginia that is practically undeveloped. A reasonable protective duty not only benefits the active producers, but gives a distinct valuation to every acre of coal in the ground.

THE FESTIVE SKY ROCKET AND THE SKY PILOT.

The Power Behind the Throne Which Speaker Cannon Leans Upon.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The God-of-Things-as-They-Ought-to-Be is conspicuous, snugly behind the Speaker's chair in the House of Representatives. Maybe everybody doesn't realize the fact, but nevertheless it's so. Members of the House have long since recognized that the real God of Things is fortified behind the Speaker, and that Uncle Joe can count on the addressed god helping him out of every hole.

The God-of-Things-as-They-Ought-to-Be, according to Speaker Cannon, has its habitat in the eight ponderous volumes which constitute the "Precedents of the House of Representatives." There isn't any power above that contained in these eight volumes.

When the Speaker gets into a parliamentary tangle, wherein he knows that the rules of the House are not entirely support his way of thinking, he refers to the Precedents and gets satisfaction. By the aid of the eight volumes, he can prove that black is white when necessary.

The Precedents of the House include every parliamentary ruling and a brief resume of every parliamentary interpretation of the Rules of the House since the time of the first Speaker, Asher C. Hinds, who collected and wrote the eight volumes, spent 15 years at the task. Asher Hinds, by the way, is the pilot who sits at "Uncle Joe's" right hand and guides him through the stormy sea of parliamentary trouble. He is the foremost authority on legislative law and practice in the country. If the Speaker wants to do something that is frowned upon as not in order he consults with Asher Hinds, and Hinds finds a Precedent to apply effectually showing that a parallel case occurred in, well, 1832, which ruling is just what the Speaker at once proceeds to make. He's fortified by him the Precedents. No one can hope to get the better of the Precedents, unless by an appeal from the Chair's decision, and whenever this occurs it always means a party vote, wherein the Republicans rally to the Speaker's support, and effectually snow under the Democrats.

"Vic" Murdock, who is the head of the Republican "insurgents" against the present House rules, admits that the real solution of the problem is the Precedents. He agrees that the Rules don't amount to shucks when it comes to the Precedents. It's those eight volumes that worry everybody. There's so much uncertainty as to just how they are to be read. Murdock is insuring around against the Precedents even more strenuously than against the Rules. He thinks the time has come for a new deal and a clean deck, where previous decisions don't count. He wants a new set of rules formulated. Then he would cart the eight volumes of Precedents to the ash heap. The rules have been several times amended since the Congress was organized, but the same old precedents still govern. The Speaker raked one up the other day bearing the date of February 19, 1837, before Czar Reed was even thought of, and before the famous "Reed rules" under which the House is now supposed to be governed were ever projected. With the aid of that relic of 1837, and one dated January 28, 1817, Speaker Cannon ruled out a certain parliamentary proceeding to which he and the other Republican leaders objected.

Nobody appealed because it was a Democrat who fought for the parliamentary rule, and a minority member had realized that a minority member had about as much chance of successfully carrying an appeal from the Chair's decision as a ball of snow would have on one of Memphis' streets. Speaker Cannon may be the Iron Duke of American Politics; but the real ruler of the House, figuratively and actually the power behind the throne and the God-of-Things-as-They-Ought-to-Be, is Asher Hinds' accommodating tome of Precedents.

Children's White Dresses; sizes 1 to 6 years. These were shown in the window and on the tables and are slightly soiled and for that reason you can buy them at exactly one-half the original price.

NEW SHIRT WAISTS.

Showing this week several new styles in waists at $2.50, $3.50, $5.00 and $6.00. New patterns in the lace and embroidery with which they are trimmed and we call special attention to the fit of these waists. You'll find them better in every way than the ordinary waists at these prices.

A NEW PARASOL FOR THE FOURTH.

You'll want one and we think we have the kind you want at pretty near the price you want to pay. Pretty colors and pretty styles and every one new this season. No hold overs from last year. Prices start at $1.00 and from that on up to $5 and $6.

WOMEN'S HOSE AT 35c, OR 3 PAIRS FOR $1.00.

Here's a make and quality of hose that this store has carried in stock for over 30 years. Summer weight gauge hose with double sole and double heels. As good as most 50c stockings you are shown. Onyx black and that means absolutely fast black.

NEMO CORSETS.

Comfort and correct style for stout women. Nemo corsets wear longer than any other corsets because the triple strip reinforcement prevents bones and steel from cutting through the material. No. 312 for stout women of medium height and 314 for short waisted stout women. Both styles $3.00 each.

COLORED LINES AT 50c THE YARD.

About 10 different shades in the best quality linen we ever had to sell at 50c the yard. Heavier and better linen and a smoother finish full 36 inches wide. Plain white linen. Oyster finish a new setting 'linen, 46 inches wide and 75c the yard. Won't cost you much to do your share towards helping Connelville to celebrate.

BUNTING FOR THE FOURTH.

Greater Connelville asks you to decorate this Fourth. Hang out bunting and flags wherever you can. Plenty of red, white and blue bunting here now at 5c the yard. Won't cost you much to do your share towards helping Connelville to celebrate.

HUSTEAD WILL IS PROBATED.

Woman Apportions Her Estate Among Her Relatives.

WANTS NOTES CANCELLED

William H. Cochran of Dawson, Alleges That a Note He Gave in a Property Deal is Not Collectable and Should Be Returned to Him.

The will of Eliza A. Hustead, who died some weeks ago at her home in Uniontown, has been admitted to probate. It disposes of a comfortable fortune to near relatives, with one exception. This is the Great Bethel Baptist Church, which receives a bequest of $500.

To each of two brothers, Moses Hustead and J. F. Hustead, and to a niece, Ada M. Crow, is given $1,000. A similar sum was bequeathed to Robert Fuller and William Hustead, sons of a deceased brother, Abraham, but owing to the death of Robert Hustead, his share of the $1,000 is revoked in a codicil under date of January 14, last, and given to Robert J. Hustead, son of J. F. Hustead.

Other bequests are: To niece, daughter of J. F. Hustead, $300; to niece, Mary, daughter of Moses Hustead, $300; to sister, Hannah Collier, $500; to nephew, Frank H., son of J. F. Hustead, $500; to aunt, Lydia Bentley, $200.

One hundred dollars is set aside to maintain the cemetery lot in which testatrix is buried. To a sister, Jane Hustead, is given one-half interest in North Gallatin avenue residence during her life.

Ada M. Crow and Frank H. Hustead are named as executrix and executor of the will. The residue of the estate is to be divided in the same proportion to the legatees named above, except those to the sister, Jane Hustead, the Great Bethel Baptist Church and that for the care of the cemetery lot. The will is dated July 24, 1900.

Upon application of William H. Cochran, of Dawson, Judge J. C. Van Swearingen yesterday granted a rule upon J. F. Murphy, for the use of George P. Christy, trustee in bankruptcy, to show cause why a judgment against Cochran should not be opposed and the note cancelled. The rule is returnable in 15 days.

Cochran sets forth that the note was given along with ten shares of Commonwealth Coal & Coke Company stock, and a house and lot in Dawson in exchange for property in Dawson formerly owned by Murphy. The property was in fact exchanged, such man entering into possession, but as the deeds never formally passed because Cochran discovered there was a judgment against the property for $300 and another subsequently entered. On August 14, 1900, before the matter could be adjusted, Murphy was adjudged a bankrupt and the note for $1,000 and the stock passed into the trustee's hands. The old properties were redelivered and the former Murphy property was sold at Sheriff's sale to C. O. Schroyer. Under the circumstances Cochran states that no consideration having passed for the note, it should be redelivered to him.

Married in the noted precincts of Yaeger Hollow, February 24, 1903, John P. Stickle of Hopwood, yesterday had Attorney George Patterson file a libel in divorce against Mollie Stickle, alleging desertion March 1, 1906. Following their marriage the couple lived at Hopwood and Yaeger Hollow. The libellant now lives in Hopwood and the respondent at Yaeger Hollow.

By the will of the late Capitola Winger, who died at her home in North Union township, April 20, 1907, her entire estate, consisting of $500 in real estate, is given to her husband, Michael Winger, who took out letters of administration upon the estate. The will was dated September 25, 1903.

GOING TO RANIER.

Sunday School Will Picnic There on July 8.

A change has been made in the location of the Sunday school picnic. Instead of going to the Ferncliffe grounds at Ohioville the picnic will be held at the Ranier hotel and park. The reason for the change was that the park has a large number of amusements and the manager, William L. Aubrey offered these for the gathering. The park is being beautified in many ways and is an ideal park.

IN OPEN AIR AT SCOTSDALE

Congregations Will Have Sunday Evening Meetings in Loucks Park, First Tomorrow Evening.

SCOTSDALE, July 3.—There will be no services in any of the evangelical churches of town Sunday evening on account of the ministers and their congregations having arranged to join in open air services during the summer months. Those services will be held in the Loucks park, and this place is well adapted for such gatherings. There is a large bandstand that serves for a pulpit and the gallery for the choir, which will lead the congregational singing, while there are a large number of benches that will accommodate the united congregations. The services tomorrow evening, unless some other arrangement be announced in the churches tomorrow morning and the services declared off will have for their minister, Rev. J. E. Hutchinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Other ministers will take their turn at the outdoor pulpit.

There is some murmuring going on about the request of the Board of Health that the United Brethren Sunday school desist from holding services tomorrow morning on account of the prevalence of measles, which seems to have found the most victims among the United Brethren youngsters. Some say that it would seem most reasonable to them if all the United Brethren people were herded together under such circumstances, as they think that if they have no Sunday school they will flock off to the Sunday schools of other churches and thus give all congregations a good chance at the measles. However, this was not the idea of the Board of Health who desire that the children restrain themselves from going to Sunday school anywhere for at least one Sunday. In this way the danger will be somewhat lessened. If there are no gatherings of children tomorrow it will be the best thing for everybody concerned, think the most of people. Anyway the Fifth of July celebration next Monday, which is going to be a hummer, will be the attractive power to a lot of youngsters, who will want to be present, of course. Not alone will they run the chance of maiming or killing themselves with fireworks but they will have an opportunity to be taken down with measles.

Two Southpaws Coming In. The Belvideres have written Manager S. R. Rutherford of the Scottdale team that they are going to be here in full force on Monday for the forenoon and afternoon games at Ellsworth park diamond, and that they will have "Lefty" Boyle with them. Well and good. Scottdale will be somewhat in the southpaw business themselves, as Manager Rutherford has engaged a "Lefty" too, in the person of Scottdale's Own Skemp. The speedy southpaw of State College who is home on his vacation. Skemp has been making a name for himself with the State College team, and a lot of people are willing to wager that he will show the other Leftys some new ones.

His Brother Was Killed. Marvin P. Beck in attempting to board the Johnstown Express at the Greensburg station last night missed his footing and fell underneath and had his left leg crushed off. He was carried to the hospital, but died there three hours later. A particularly sad feature was that he and his wife and two small children had just returned from Tarr where they buried one of their children. Mr. Beck was a railroad carpenter and was going to return to work at Soward, while the family were going to Pittsburgh. The wife and children saw the sad accident. The deceased lived in Pittsburgh and was 36 years old. One of his brothers, John Beck, is a well known engineer of Scottdale.

Weather Is Watched. Everyone is watching the weather very closely at the close of as hot a week as anyone around here seems to remember, and hoping that it will be pretty over the celebration next Monday. Decorators are hard at work fixing up the town, and floats are being built for the parade. The prospects are for the biggest crowd that ever assembled in Scottdale.

An Old Set of Harness. George Lowe of near Ruffs Dale visited Samuel K. Hockenberry's harness shop yesterday and ordered a new set of buggy harness. They are to be duplicates of a set that Mr. Lowe says that he bought from the late P. C. Hockenberry 63 years ago, which shows that the latter's goods are apparently now beginning to wear out, which will give encouragement to the harnessmakers of today. The harness in question were made when the Hockenberry shop was at the Fleming place a mile west of town. The shop was established 60 years ago last April and when Mr. Lowe got his harness he traded salt for them.

DIDN'T BRING DEED BACK; HAD IT FILED.

Plaintiff Says He Loaned It to Defendant for Three Days.

WAS RECORDED AT SOMERSET

Some of the Provisions of the Deed Had Not Been Made in Writing and There Were Blanks Upon It. Occupying New Postoffice.

SOMERSET, Pa., July 3.—A bill in equity was filed yesterday by Michael M. Shaulis of Lincoln township against D. W. Marsh of Johnstown. The plaintiff claims that he is the owner of a valuable tract of land in Lincoln township, containing 300 acres and adjoining the lands of D. W. Marsh, W. D. Barclay, John Kooser, Peter Black and Rachel Howard. Last December Shaulis, the plaintiff, was negotiating with Marsh, who wished to purchase Shaulis' farm, and Shaulis and his wife, Mary M., made a deed to Marsh for the property. The plaintiff alleges that several blanks left in the deed at the time he and his wife signed it were filled in after the execution of the instrument. The consideration of the deed was $20,000 half of which amount was to be paid in cash and the remainder was to be secured by a first mortgage and bond. There was no money paid to the plaintiff and no mortgage executed.

On January 8, 1900, the plaintiff states that Marsh urged him to give him the deed in order that it might be examined by his attorney, Marsh agreeing to return the deed to Shaulis within three days. Shaulis claims that he gave Marsh the deed and that Marsh did not return it to him but filed it in the office of Recorder Norman E. Berkey in Somerset and had it recorded in deed record volume 138 at page 101. Marsh, it is claimed by the plaintiff, refuses to cancel the deed or to take steps to remove the cloud thus cast on Shaulis' title to his property. The negotiations were canceled by the plaintiff.

The bill concludes with a prayer that the deed be canceled by the Court and that an injunction issue restraining Marsh from exercising any acts of possession of the premises and from encumbering or selling them or any part of them. The injunction was issued as prayed for. On Thursday Postmaster F. J. Hoffman took formal possession of the new postoffice. The clerks have accustomed themselves to their new combination locks, and it seems that this innovation will meet with the approval of the residents of the town. The office is located on Main street in the building formerly occupied by J. D. Swank. The office is finished in weathered oak and the boxes are of bronze.

The facilities for handling the mails have been greatly improved and special attention was paid to the department for distributing the mass of rural mail handled by the Somerset office.

William M. Hostettler who was recently elected Jury Commissioner, has been holding a number of meetings throughout Somerset and adjoining counties. Mr. Hostettler advocates Christian Union and has secured quite a number of converts to his belief. Mr. Hostettler returned on Thursday from Bladwell, Fayette county, where he held a very successful meeting, securing about a dozen additions to the church. They were baptized by the Rev. Waide, pastor of the Christian Church of Confluence. It is stated that Mr. Hostettler may engage permanently in "evangelical work."

UNLUCKY KEG OF BEER

Causes Quarrel Between Two Men, One Killing the Other.

Baltimore, July 3.—Following a quarrel over a keg of beer John Schirman mortally wounded John Johnson with an old saber at Johnson's home at St. Helena, Baltimore county. Schirman then held Johnson's wife and the neighbors at bay with a gun while the wounded man bled to death. Schirman was later taken prisoner in his own house by the police, who clubbed him into submission.

Chancellor McWhinney Dead. Yellow Springs, O., July 3.—T. L. McWhinney, a well known writer, speaker and minister of the Christian church, is dead here. He was chancellor of Defiance college.

PAID FOR FOURTH; GET NEW HELMETS

Two Committees of Council Met Last Night and Decided Momentous Questions.

Borough employees will get their money and the police will get new helmets for the Fourth of July. No meeting of Council took place, but there was a meeting of the Police Committee and of the Finance Committee. The Finance Committee arranged to pay off all salaries for the month of June, and the clerk was instructed to draw the vouchers. Many of them were distributed this morning. The Police Committee discussed the hat and helmet business at great length. A portion of the force has the light grey hats and the others have the dark blue heavy helmets. First it was thought that only a portion of the cops would have to be supplied; but the members of the committee argued that if some of the men got new hats all of them should have them. It was decided to get them for all members of the police force. John Dean presided at the Police Committee meeting.

STOCK COMPANY FOR THE SOISSON.

House Will Be Opened July 12 With Good Plays.

HAS MANY GOOD BOOKINGS

Regular Season Will Begin Early in September, the Opening Show at the Present Time Being a Minstrel, But Others Are Expected.

The theatrical season will resume again in Conneville on July 12, when Manager Fred Robbins will open the Soisson theatre with the Carroll Comedy Company, producing some of the best melo-dramatic attractions on the boards. The company has been received well everywhere it has been during the present season. The prices will be especially attractive, 10 cents being the offering for any part of the house for adults and 5 cents for children.

Mr. Robbins proposes to keep the house open from now until the regular season begins in September. This year's bookings for the Soisson while they have not been completed, are most extensive and attractive. Along with the Nixon & Zimmerman attractions the Belasco attractions are being booked as well as the Fiske attractions. This triple combination will be added to from time to time by the Schubert attractions. No regular arrangement has yet been effected with the Schuberts but it is believed that they will be secured in time for the opening of the regular season. The syndicate now booking which will furnish attractions are Stair & Havalia, Nixon & Zimmerman, Klaw & Erlanger, Al Heman, Henry B. Harris and Charles Frohman. With this combination the best plays that travel will be seen at the Soisson.

Mr. Robbins' first attraction booked this year is the Eddie Leonard minstrel for September 15, but he is of opinion that the season will be opened earlier than this, as his bookings are incomplete. Among the attractions booked so far are the following:

Eddie Leonard's Big Musical Festival. At Apple Creek.

Married for Money. Polly of the Circus.

The Climbers.

The Holy City. Quincy Adams Sawyer.

Raid in Pull. Billy the Kid.

A Stubborn Cinderella. Girl of the Mountains.

Ile of Splice. Yankee Doodle Detective.

The Third Degree.

The Thief.

Georgia Sidney in a New Play.

Traveling Salesman.

A Knight for a Day.

The Shepherd King.

The Time, Place and Girl.

DEAL IS CLOSED.

Owners of The Bazaar Made a Good Deal in Pittsburgh.

A telegram from the Pittsburgh Commission Company advises the Bazaar that they will accept its offer for 18,000 yards of domestics at 53 cents upon the dollar. The goods will be shipped to Conneville immediately and placed on sale at the Bazaar, 112 North Pittsburgh street. The manager of the Bazaar will announce in a few days the date of the sale. Watch for the big advertisement.

Independence Day Excursion. July 10th. Pittsburgh & Lake Erie special train to Ashtabula Harbor.

THE OLD HOME PLACE.

I thought was mine sure, let some other fellow assert her home from church, and how I resolved to break her heart by hitching onto some other girl, and well do. I remember how her heart broke, but rather grew merry over my discomfiture. But I was young then, and doubtless there are others who could tell a similar story.

But what of the chums and schoolmates of those days? Ah, me! With what a relentless hand has the Grim Reaper wielded his scythe among them.

The bones of some of them who offered up their lives on the altar of their country are scattered over the battlefields of the great conflict of the sixties. Others have gone down to untimely graves, while a few have lived to be called grand and even great-grandparents, while only four or five remain to talk with me of the old days. And what of the 12 brothers and three sisters, reared in this old home?

O, how the tender chords of memory cluster around that old hearstone. The days of joy and gladness and the days of bereavement and sorrow. First one, then another, and another, until eight baby brothers had listened to the last lullaby and the whole household was weighted down with sorrow. And no voice is heard no sound is made. No step is on the conscious floor. Yet love will dream, and faith will trust (Since He, who knows our need is just) That somewhere, somehow, meet we must.

O, time and change, with hair as gray As was my sire's that winter day, How strange it seems, with so much gone.

O life and love, to still live on. O, brother (Rob) only I and thou Are left of all that circle now. The dear home faces wherever The fulfilment paled and shone.

Look where we will, the wide earth o'er, Those lighted faces smile no more. We tread the paths their feet have worn.

Their written words we linger o'er, We sit beneath their orchard trees,

And now as I gaze on the old home (Quite likely for the last time) and look back over the three score and thirteen years, since I started on life's journey from this dear spot, I can discern much more of sunshine than of shadow, and much more of joy than of sorrow. In fact, I have found this old world full of good; lovable and comparable people, and I would not remonstrate against staying another 72 years among them, but I must move on, so good-bye, dear old home. # FIGHTING TO KEEP BARS UP.

Pennsylvania Senators Stand
Firm on the Tariff Measure.

ATTITUDE OF THE DEMOCRATS

Review of Situation in Senate Gives Encouragement to Those Who Hope
For Continuance of Great Prosperity Marking County's Growth.

The principal feature of the long drawn out debate in the United States Senate over the tariff which it is hard for Pennsylvanians to understand, and for that matter it is equally hard for most of the West Virginia and Ohio neighbors, is that a handful of professing protectionists from the west, outside the Democrats in demanding that the tariff bars be let down so that the workmen of this country shall find themselves in the same position that tens of thousands of British workmen are—denied work because of the "Made-in-Germany" inundation of cheap goods.

Goods "Made in Germany" are ruling England.

Goods "Made in Germany" would have ruined America long ago but for the tariff.

There is one thing to be thankful for, however, and that is that the patriotic Republicans in the Senate under the leadership of Senator Aldrich have brought out in bold relief the difference between patriotic Senators and statesmen who stand for the general welfare of the whole country and the American people, and the blatant political demagogues of that body who, as the Kerstone Gazette of Bellefonte tersely puts it, "are willing to sacrifice the welfare of the people and the prosperity of the nation in order to keep themselves in the limelight and exhibit their wonderful wind power, and who by so doing hope to advance their own selfish political ambitions and pecuniary interests."

Since March 15 last the stanch and loyal Republicans have been working assiduously and incessantly on the great question of a wise and effective tariff bill. They have long been familiar with the effect and results of wise tariff legislation upon the interests of all classes in the country—wage earner, farmer, manufacturer and transportation companies. To preserve the idea of protection has been one of the cardinal and fundamental principles of the Republican party since its organization over half a century ago.

The final success of the party in getting into the control of the administration of government affairs and the enforcement of its tariff principles, has given the country an unexampled degree of growth and prosperity. Whenever the policy of protection was temporarily reversed then prosperity fled, business and industry were paralyzed and financial distress and ruin, poverty, pauperism and crime dominated the land. "Yet," quoting from the Bellefonte Gazette again, "despite the splendid history of the past half century of the nation under Republican rule, we have a gang of pseudo Republicans such as La Follette, Dilliver, Cummins and Beveridge, young as acrobats, ignorant as native legislators, great in their eagerness to emit words of wind, generally meaningless and ineffective, and who possess an overweening political ambition to run things and to play the role of obstructionists for purely selfish purposes. Men who hold up the legislation on the tariff and thus keep in suspense the rapid resumption of the manufacturing industries of the country would for their selfish purposes inaugurate a reign of soup houses, bring upon the country a paralysis of business, financial ruin and distress. But they will fail. And they and their skyrocket speeches and careers as Senators in relation to the tariff legislation, in a short time will sink into oblivion, and the place that knows them now will, ere long, know them no more forever."

They cannot succeed because patriotic Senators and Representatives will enact a proper law that will preserve protection to the American wage earner and thus preserve the dignity and honor of American labor and citizenship and secure our own markets for the products of our mills, our manufacturers and our farms.

"All honor to the Republican Senators who are working so faithfully and patriotically for the best interests of the country; and especially do we approve and commend the faithful and effective work of Senator Peacock as one of the members of the finance committee in behalf of a proper protective tariff, as well as the support given the committee by Senator Oliver."

"When the bill is finally passed the people will proudly acclaim their heavy approval of the work well done by the Republican Senators who have stood up so staunchly and made this long contested struggle against political demagogues in order to secure the greatest good to the greatest number and the general welfare and continued prosperity of the nation."

In connection with this great debate going on in the Senate it is pertinent to inquire what has become of the Democratic policy of free trade, of free raw material, of a tariff-for-revenue-only? Gone aglimmering! Unconsciously the Democrats of the Senate have absorbed the Hancock doctrine—the doctrine that was so deadly in its effects upon Hancock as a candidate

REAR ADMIRAL SEATON SCHROEDER, WHO COMMANDS ATLANTIC FLEET

REAR ADMIRAL SEATON SCHROEDER

The Fourth of July will be celebrated by the Atlantic fleet with a great booming of guns, for 15 of the big battleships of Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder's squadron are now maneuvering off the New England coast. In some cases the men will have shore liberty and will join in local celebrations, but the ships will not halt long in their work. Twelve of the battleships assembled at Hampton Roads on June 23 to proceed with the summer practice and sailed immediately for the New England coast. The new military masts will be thoroughly tried out, and for the first time in years all the ships appear in their warlike coat of gray. In fact, Rear Admiral Schroeder's squadron goes forth in war paint as perfectly equipped for battle as though war were in progress.

THE FOURTH IN DENMARK

Crown Prince Will Help Danish Americans to Celebrate the Day.

Aarhus, Denmark, July 3.—In this ancient Jutland city, situated on the eastern coast of the Danish peninsula, the Fourth of July will be celebrated tomorrow with a fervor and enthusiasm equal to those displayed in any city of the United States. The reason therefor is the gathering here of a large body of Danish Americans, come to visit the land of their forefathers. They have not forgotten their new home in their affection for the old and will show the residents of Aarhus what a real old fashioned celebration of the Fourth of July means.

Most of the Danish Americans here are from the middle west. At the head of the committee having charge of the Independence day celebration is Dr. Hentus of Chicago. Last month Dr. Hentus was received in audience by King Frederick at Copenhagen. His majesty showed great interest in the celebration and promised the attendance of Crown Prince Christian.

HALF MILLION SHORT.

Concerns Closed and Officials Under Serious Charges.

Ironwood, Mich., July 3.—President H. F. Jahn, Cashier E. T. Larson and Assistant Cashier George H. Meadow are the first National bank of this city, have been bound over to the federal grand jury. The charges against them are the outgrowth of the closing of the bank last week by the federal authorities.

The bank had about $800,000 in deposits and the receiver has now in his hands about $300,000 in assets. The loss to depositors will probably be heavy. Meadow is in jail at Bensenville in default of $50,000 bail, while Jahn furnished $25,000 and Larson $10,000 bail bonds.

It is alleged that Larson has in the past two years embezzled $200,000. Jahn is accused of aiding and abetting the cashier in falsifying Meadows' books, a similar charge and also one of embezzling $15,000.

INSPECTORS HONEST MEN.

Secretary Wilson Orders Dismissal of Accusers.

Washington, July 3.—The committee appointed by Secretary Wilson, composed of Dr. A. D. Melvin of the bureau of animal industry, and George P. McCabe, solicitor of the department, which investigated the charges of J. F. Harms that the federal meat inspection service at East St. Louis was "rotten and a farce," reported that the inspectors there were honest men and performing their duties efficiently and that no meat had been passed which was unfit for human food.

As the result of the report Secretary Wilson has ordered the summary dismissal of Meat Inspectors Harms and Bishop and Veterinary Inspector Mitchell.

Four Sisters Attend Execution.

Senatobia, Miss., July 3.—Steve Venny, a negro, was hanged for the murder of A. T. Veeney, a young white man. Among those present at the execution were the four sisters of the murdered man, one of whom asked to be allowed to spring the trap, but was refused.

SENATE ADOPTS CORPORATION TAX

After Defeating the Income Tax by a Vote of 41 to 45.

ALDRICH WINS HANDS DOWN

Eight So-Called Republican Insurgents
Join With Democrats, Who Vote
Solidly For Income Tax and Later
For Corporation Tax.

Washington, July 3.—The corporation tax amendment is now an integral part of the tariff bill as that bill now stands. The amendment was agreed to by the large vote of 60 to 11. With all modifying amendments disposed of, many Democrats voted with most of the Republicans for the amendment. Only three Democrats voted against the provision on the final vote, but some refrained from voting at all.

The test vote was on the substitution of the corporation tax amendment for the income tax provision and on that vote forty-five senators cast their ballots in the affirmative and thirty-one in the negative. On this ballot all the Democratic votes were cast in favor of the income tax, which also received the support of a number of the insurgent Republicans.

The Republicans who voted with the Democrats were Messrs. Borah, Bristow, Bulkeley, Clapp, Cummins, Dilliver and La Follette.

Decisions to recommend the prohibition of prize coupons in tobacco and snuff packages and to increase most of the provisions of the tobacco schedule were reached by the Republican members of a sub-committee of the senate finance committee. The increases will be made not only in the tax proposed by the house on cut and plug tobacco, but also upon cigars, cigarettes and snuff.

STATUE UNVEILED.

President Joins in Paying Honor to Stephenson.

Washington, July 3.—With military and civic honors, as befitting the recalling to memory of a man who was trained in the peaceful profession of medicine and served his country in the ranks of war, the statue of Major Benjamin Franklin Stephenson, "father of the Grand Army of the Republic," was unveiled here today.

Participating in the ceremony of dedication were President Taft and other prominent men. The president delivered an address, but the orator of the day was Representative J. Hampton Moore of Pennsylvania. The unveiling was preceded by a parade of United States soldiers, sailors and marines and the national guard of the District of Columbia.

The monument unveiled today is the first one erected to the memory of Major Stephenson, who was born in Illinois in 1822 and died in 1871. It is intended also to commemorate his service and brave his idea, conceived while he was serving as a surgeon in the Union army, of uniting the veterans of the Federal army into a great fraternal organization.

The shaft is of granite about forty feet high and triangular in shape. On each of its three sides are groups in bronze representing the three cardinal principles of the Grand Army of the Republic—fraternity, charity and loyalty. On the western side is a bronze idealized medallion of Dr. Stephenson in the uniform of an officer of the civil war.

The shaft has been erected at a cost of $40,000, the Grand Army of the Republic contributing $20,000 and the national government $20,000.

20 WORKMEN DIE IN DITCH

Walls of Trench in Which They Are Working Collapse.

Newport, England, July 3.—It is estimated that twenty men perished by the sudden collapse of a wall of rock at the entrance to the Alexandra dock. Fifty men were working in a trench preparing for the laying of a concrete foundation. Without the slightest warning the heavy shoring timbers gave way in the middle and the entire structure collapsed and carried down with it thousands of tons of earth, the railway lines on both sides of the trench, many railway cars and four travelling cranes.

The men at the bottom of the trench, which was 100 yards long and 30 feet wide, had no chance to escape, but many of those working near the surface were uninjured. The incoming tide made the work of rescue very difficult.

BRIDGE WELL GUARDED

Panhandle Structure at Steubenville Threatened Again.

Steubenville, O., July 3.—Feeling the Panhandle railroad bridge across the Ohio river at this point, which is being repaired, will be blown up, the railroad company has tripled its detective force to sixty men, bringing officers from all along the line.

The Benbow Construction Company has the repair contract. The bridge iron was blown up recently and threats are received daily. An armed launch patrols the river at night.

CHAPTER XIII.

MR. SAUNDERS HAS A PLAN.

MISS PELHAM'S affair with Thomas Saunders by this time had reached the stage where observers feel a hesitancy about twitting the parties most concerned.

"Miss Pelham is a clever girl, much cleverer than Saunders would be if he were a girl," said Britt. "She's found out that he earns a thousand a year and that his mother is a very old woman. That shows foresight. She says she's just crazy about London, although she doesn't know where Hammarburgh is. That shows discretion. She's anxious to see the boats at Putney and talks like an encyclopedia about Kew gardens. That shows diplomacy. You see, Saunders lives in Hammarburgh, not far from the bridge, all alone with his mother, who owns the house and garden. It's all very appealing to Miss Pelham, who has got devilish tired of seeing the natives from a nineteenth story in Broadway."

"She's a very nice girl," agreed Bobby Brown.

"A very fancy one," added Deppingham, who had come a severe cropper in his single attempt to interest her in a mild flirtation.

"She's off with Saunders now," went on Britt. "That's why you can't find him, my lead. If you really want him, however, I think you can reach him by strolling through the lower end of the park, but don't fall to about."

"I do want him, confessed him! I want to ask him how many days there are left before our time is up on the island. Damned annoying that I can't have legal advice when I want it."

"How many days have you been here?"

"How the devil should I know? That's what we've got Saunders here for. He's supposed to tell us when to go home and all that sort of thing, you know."

Deppingham, phlegmatic soul, was forever describing Saunders with calls to duty, although Saunders was brutal enough in his British way to maintain in confidence, of course, that he was in the employ of Lady Deppingham or no one at all. Nevertheless he always lived under the shadow of duty. At any moment his lordship was liable to send him to ask the time of day or some equally important question. And this brings us to the hour when Saunders unfolded his startling solution to the problem that confronted them all.

First he confided in Britt soberly, sagely and in perfect good faith. Britt was bowled over. He stared at Saunders and gaped. Nearly two minutes elapsed before he could find words to reply, which proves conclusively that it must have been something of a shock to him. When at last he did express himself, however, there was nothing that could have been left unsaid—absolutely nothing. He went so far as to call Saunders a dapper fool and a great many other things that Saunders had not in the least expected.

Englishman was astounded. They had it back and forth, from legal and other points of view, and finally Britt gave in to his colleague, reserving the right to laugh when it was all over. Saunders, with a determination that surprised even himself, called for a conference of all parties in Wyckholme's study at 4 o'clock.

"Now, what's it all about, Saunders?" demanded Deppingham, with a wide yawn. Saunders looked hurt.

"It's high time we were discussing some of our difficulties," he said. "But five weeks remain before our stay is over. The apparent impossibility of marriage between Lady Deppingham and Mr. Brown naturally throws our joint cause into jeopardy. There must be no controversy, of course, if the terms of the will could be carried out in that respect. The Saunders understand our position and seem secure in their rights. They imagine that they have us beaten on the face of things. Now, the thing for us to do is to get married."

He came to this conclusion with startling abruptness. Four of his hearers stared at him in blank astonishment.

"Get married?" murmured first one, then another.

"Are you crazy?" demanded Brown. Britt was grinning broadly.

"Certainly not!" snapped Saunders. "Oh, by Jove!" exclaimed Deppingham, relieved. "I see. You mean you contemplate getting married. I congratulate you. You gave me quite a shock, Saunders."

"I don't mean anything of the sort, my lord," said Saunders, getting very red in the face. Miss Pelham looked up from her notebook quickly. He winked at her, and her ladyship saw him do it. "I mean that it is high time that Lady Deppingham and Mr. Brown were getting married. We haven't much time to spare. It—"

"Good Lord!" gasped Bobby Brown. "You are crazy, after all."

"Open the window and give some air," said Britt coolly.

"See here, Saunders, what the devil is the matter with you?" roared Deppingham.

"My lord, I am here to act as your legal adviser," said Saunders, with dignity. "May I be permitted to proceed?"

"Rather queer legal advice, 'pon my word."

"Please let him explain," put in Mrs. Brown, whose sense of humor was strongly attracted by this time. "If there is anything more to be learned concerning matrimony I'd like to know it."

"Yes, Mr. Saunders, you may proceed," said Lady Agnes, placing a hand over her bewildered eyes.

"Thank you, my lady. Well, here it is in a nutshell: I have not spoken of it before, but you and Mr. Brown can very easily comply with the provisions of the will. You can be married at any time. Now, I—"

"And where do I come in?" demanded Deppingham sarcastically.

"Yes, and I?" added Mrs. Brown. "For forget us, Mr. Saunders."

"I include Mrs. Brown," amended Deppingham. "Are we to be assassinated? By Jove, clever idea of yours, Saunders! Simplifies matters tremendously."

"I hear no objection from the heirs," remarked Saunders meaningly, whereupon Lady Agnes and Bobby came out of their stupor and protested vigorously.

"Miss Pelham," said Britt, breaking in sharply. "I trust you are getting all of this down. I wish to warn you, ladies and gentlemen, that I expect to overthrow the will on the ground that there is insanity on both sides. You'll oblige me by uttering just what you feel."

"My plan is very simple," began Saunders helplessly.

"Damned simple," growled Deppingham.

"We are living on an island where polygamy is practiced and tolerated. Why can't we take advantage of the custom and beat the natives at their own game? That's the ticket!"

Of course this proposition, simple as it sounded, brought forth a storm of laughter and expostulation, but Saunders held his ground.

"You have only to embrace Mohammedanism or paganism, or whatever it is, temporarily—just long enough to get married and comply with the terms. Then, I dare say, you could resume your Christian doctrine once more, after a few weeks, I'd say, and the case is won."

"I pay Lady Deppingham the compliment by saying that it would be most difficult for me to become a Christian again," said Brown smoothly, bowing to the flushed Englishwoman.

"How very sweet of you!" she said, with a grimace which made Drusilla shiver with annoyance.

"You don't need to live together, of course," Saunders, getting rather beyond his depth.

"Well, that's a concession on your part," said Mrs. Brown, a flash in her eye.

"I never heard of such an insane proposition," spluttered Deppingham. Saunders went completely under at that.

"On the other hand," he hastened to remark, "I'm sure it would be quite legal if you did live to—"

"Stop him, for heaven's sake!" screamed Lady Agnes, bursting into uncontrollable laughter.

"Stop him? Why?" demanded her husband, suddenly seeing what he regarded as a rare joke. "Let's hear him out. By Jove, there's more to it than I thought. Go on, Saunders."

"Of course if you are going to be nasty about it," began Saunders in a huff. "I can't see anything nasty about it."

said Brown. "I'll admit that our wife and our husband may decide to be stubborn and unreasonable, but it sounds rather attractive to me."

"Robert!" from his wife.

"He's only joking, Mrs. Brown," explained Deppingham magnanimously. "Now, let me understand you, Saunders. You say they can be married according to the customs—well, I take it, are the laws—of the islanders. Your plan provides Brown with two charming wives and gives me but one. There's nothing to compel Mrs. Brown to marry me."

"But, my lord," said Saunders, "doesn't the plan give Lady Deppingham two husbands? It's quite a fair division."

"It would make Lord Deppingham my husband-in-law, I imagine," said Drusilla quaintly. "I've always had a horror of husbands-in-law."

"And you would be my wife-in-law," supplemented Lady Agnes. "How interesting!"

"Saunders," said Deppingham soberly. "I must oppose your plan. It's quite unfair to two innocent and uninvolved parties. What have we done that we should be exempt from polygamy?"

WHERE DENVER WELCOMES EDUCATORS; SOME OF THE PROMINENT DELEGATES.

DENVER, July 3.—This city has made elaborate preparations to entertain the delegates to the convention of the National Educational Association, which will be in session here from July 6 to 9. Anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000 visitors are expected, including many of the most distinguished educators in the country. Many of the delegates will go to Seattle to visit the A. L. P. Exposition after the convention is over. Elmer L. Brown, Commissioner of Education, will be a leading figure in the big meeting, but the larger percentage of the delegates are women.

MISS NELLIE RICHMAN

ELMER L. BROWN

MRS. S. P. DECKER

"You are not exempt!" exclaimed the harassed solicitor. "You are merely not obliged to; that's all. You can do as you choose about it. I'm sure. I'm sorry my plan causes so much levity. It is meant for the good of our cause. The will doesn't say how many wives Mr. Brown shall have. It simply says that Agnes Rulvren shall be his wife. He isn't restricted, you know. He can be a polygamist if he likes."

"You're right," said Britt. "The will doesn't specify. But, my dear Saunders, you are overlooking your own client in this plan."

"I don't quite understand, Mr. Britt."

"As I understand the laws on this island—the church laws—at least—a man can have as many wives as he likes. Well, that's all very well for Mr. Brown. But isn't it also a fact that a woman can have no more than one husband? Lady Deppingham has one husband. She can't take another without first getting rid of this one."

"Saunders," said Deppingham, arising and lighting a fresh cigarette, "you have gone clean daft. You're loony with love. You've got marriage on the brain. I'd advise you to take some one for it."

"Do you mean that for me, Lord Deppingham?" demanded Miss Pelham sharply. She stared at him and then slammed her notebook on the table.

"You can't ask me, my lady, but you can't ask me. I'm the stick of this job. Get somebody else to do your work after this. I'm through."

"Oh!" exclaimed every one, in a panic. It took nearly ten minutes to pacify the ruffled diplomat.

"Perhaps we could arrange for a divorce all round," cried Saunders, suddenly inspired.

"On what grounds?" laughed Brown. "Give me time," said the lawyer.

"It's barely possible that there is no divorce law in Japan," remarked Britt, enjoying his conferees' misery.

"Are you quite sure?"

"Reasonably. If there was such a law I'll bet my head two-thirds of the men in Anatolia would be getting rid of their wives before night."

"I'm tired," said Lady Deppingham suddenly. She yawned and stretched her arms. "It's been very entertaining. Saunders, but really I think we'd better dress for dinner. Come, Mr. Brown. Shall we look for the princess?"

"With pleasure, if you'll promise to spare Deppingham's life."

"On condition that you will spare Deppingham's wife," very prettily and amiably. Mrs. Brown laughed with amazing good grace, but there was a new expression in her eyes.

"Your ladyship," called Saunders desperately, "do you approve of my plan? It's only a subterfuge."

"Heartily!" she exclaimed, with one of her rarest laughs. "The only objection that I can see to it is that it leaves out my husband and Mrs. Brown. They are very nice people, Saunders, and you should be no consideration of them. Come, Mr. Brown. She took the American's arm and gayly danced from the room. Lord Deppingham's eyes glowed with pride in his charming wife as he followed with the heartless Drusilla.

"I would have won them over if Britt had not interfered," almost wailed little Mr. Saunders, his eyes glazed with mortification.

"I'm getting to hate that man," said Miss Pelham loquaciously. "And the others! They give me a pain! Don't mind them, Tommy, dear."

Lady Deppingham and Brown came upon the princess quite unexpectedly. She was in the upper gallery, leaning against the stone rail and gazing steadily through the fieldglasses in the direction of the bungalow. They held back and watched her, unseen. The soft light of early evening fell upon her figure as she stood erect, lithe and sinuous in the open space between the ivy-clad porches.

Genevra smiled secretly in her supposed absence from the world. Then, suddenly moved by a strange impulse, she gently waved her handkerchief as if in greeting to some one far off in the gloaming. The action was a mischievous one, no doubt, and it had its consequences—rather sudden and startling, if the observers were to judge by her subsequent movements. She lowered the glass instantly. There was a quick catch in her breath, as if a laugh had been checked; confusion swept over her, and she drew back into the shadows—as a guilty child might have done. They distinctly heard her murmur as she crossed the flags and disappeared through the French window without seeing them. "Oh, dear, what a crazy thing to do!" Genevra, peering through the glasses, had discovered the figure of Chase on the bungalow porch. She was amused to find that he, from his distant post, was also regarding the chateau through a pair of glasses. A spirit of adventure, risk, mischief, as uncontrolled as breath itself, impelled her to haunt her handkerchief. That treacherous spirit deserted her, most shamelessly when her startled eyes saw that he was waving a response. She lay awake for a long time that night wondering what he would think of her for that wretched bit of frivolity. Then at last a new thought came to her, but it did not give her the peace of mind that she desired.

He may have mistaken her for Lady Deppingham.

CONVENTION OF EDUCATORS

National Association of Teachers Begins Meeting in Denver.

Denver, July 3.—With the gathering in this city today of thousands of teachers and others interested in educational work, the annual convention of the National Education Association assumed shape, although the general sessions will not open until Monday evening, when the president of the Association, Lorenzo D. Harvey of Minneapolis, Wis., will deliver an address on "Industrial Education." The convention will remain in session until July 9.

The present active membership of the association consists of 6,000 of the leading teachers of the country. All teachers and others actively associated with educational institutions, including libraries and periodicals, may become members of the association. Persons not engaged in educational work, as well as those eligible to become active members, but who do not wish to, may enroll as associate members. The association was established in 1857 as the National Teachers' association and assumed its present name in 1870.

Notorious Paving Scandal Reaches Final Chapter.

Columbus, O., July 3.—Judge Kinkead of the common pleas court found Nelson Cannon, former agent of the Trinidad Paving company of Cleveland, $500 on a plea of guilty of bribing members of the board of public service in the East Broad street paving scandal.

Arthur Beck, former assistant city engineer, was fined $200 on a plea of guilty of accepting a bribe, and Henry Lang, former local manager of the Trinidad company, was fined $500 on the same plea.

The four indictments against M. F. Bramley, president of the Trinidad Paving company, for offering a bribe were nolle because, the court states, he had assisted in the prosecution of other convicted men.

RETURNS COMING IN

Two Boys Lose Hand—Each in Premature Celebration.

Phillipsburg, N. J., July 3.—Charles Giddens and Ellsworth Davis, each sixteen years old, were loading a cannon with dynamite and were ramming the charge with an iron bar when there was an explosion.

Their fingers were blown off and Davis's eyes are burned so badly that it is feared the sight has been destroyed. Surgeons amputated a hand for each boy.

Wehrum Death List 21.

Jonestown, Pa., July 3.—Calvin Huoy, age thirty-seven and married, died at the Spangler hospital of injuries sustained in the mine explosion at Wehrum last week. This brings the death list up to twenty-one.

6,000 Miners Ordered to Strike.

Sydney, C. E., July 3.—Six thousand miners employed by the Dominion Coal company in its various collieries in Cape Breton were ordered out on strike next Tuesday by the United Mineworkers of America.

Success consecrates the foulest crimes—Seneca.

BIG ORDERS ARE PLACED AT MILLS

B. & O. in the Market for Many Cars and Locomotives—Cars and Rails Freely Ordered.

MILL activities are on the increase and new orders for cars and rails are being placed by the railroads. In a meeting in New York yesterday the leading rail manufacturers decided there should be no change in the price of rails, and they will continue to sell at $28 per ton.

Present plans of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad calls for 3,500 freight cars, 70 passenger coaches and 50 locomotives, but it is expected that their entire buying this year will go over 10,000 cars. The Reading has ordered 50 steel cars from the Standard Steel Car company, the steel to be furnished by the Carnegie Steel Company. The Central of New Jersey has ordered 500 steel gondolas of the American Car and Foundry Company and an order for 1,000 steel hoppers will go to the Standard Steel Car Company. The Great Northern is inquiring for 1,000 box cars.

There is activity in the erection of new steel buildings, which will cause heavy orders for steel. The rail orders booked for the week aggregate about 800,000 tons.

BUY THE JANE LEW CO. AT M'WHORTER, W. VA.

Harry Whyel and Associates at Uniontown Purchase Coal and Coke Producing Plant.

The Clarksburg Gas Coal Company, of which Harry Whyel of Uniontown is president, and in which his brother George Whyel, George B. Birchfield and Isaac W. Seemans, are associated, and recently incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000 has purchased the Jane-Lew Coal & Coke Company, at McWhorter, W. Va. They have bought all the equipment for coal mining and shipping and a string of 200 horse-drawn teams that make up the coke and of the plant. Operations will be commenced soon, it is expected.

The Great Root Juice Is Here

It is Predicted That Many Will Call at Graham & Co.'s Drug Store During the Demonstration.

The Root Juice Demonstrations started at Graham & Co.'s drug store today. The scientist said: "I earnestly hope that Root Juice will do as much good in Connelville as it has at Fort Wayne, Ind., and other points. It is easy to say a remedy will cure certain troubles, but we have positive proofs that Root Juice will cure rheumatism, indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, consumption, nervous weakness and most of the kidney complaints. It cures by removing or destroying germs that often infect the body and weaken and disease the digestive and secretory organs. The Juice also has a wonderful soothing, healing and tonic action on the stomach, bowels, bladder, liver and kidneys. What it has done at other points, I feel safe in predicting that in less than two weeks scores of local people will be loud in their praise of the health promoting juice." Newspaper reports indicate that many experience rapid improvement from the very start. The demonstrations will continue at Graham & Co.'s drug store a few days. The Juice is sold for $1 a bottle or three bottles for $2.50. It has created a great sensation during the past few months on account of the many seemingly remarkable cures it has made.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

No Need To Take Any Further Risks.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids when a certain cure is offered them?

Donan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

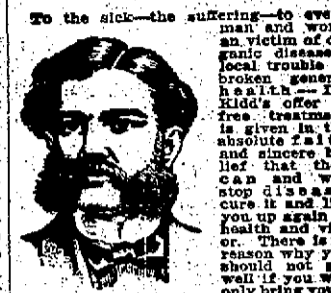

If you have any, even one, of the symptoms of kidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Can Connelville residents demand more convincing proof than the following:

Harry Dinsmore, New Haven, Pa., says: "I am only too pleased to confirm the statement I made in 1897 concerning the benefit I had received from Donan's Kidney Pills. My kidneys were out of order and in consequence I suffered from a severe pain across my back, which was greatly aggravated if I stooped or lifted. Donan's Kidney Pills completely removed the trouble and benefited me in a general way. On several occasions I have had need of a kidney remedy and Donan's Kidney Pills have never failed to give me the same prompt relief. I value them very highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Donan's—and take no other.

The Cokers added another name to the injury list, uncorbed a plethoric at first and beat Grafton in 10 innings of snappy baseball yesterday. Enough for our day?

Chip Francis batted home the winning run, too, which was worth the price of admission, and played the best game he has put up this season. That was encouraging to the friends of Chip to whom his past work has been somewhat disappointing.

Trouble never comes in scattered sections, but must land on the Cokers in bunches. To cap the climax of a week of hard luck, Dave Calhoun, who was just striking his stride with the stick, was spiked by Grafton in the first inning. The Grafton players' iron out into Dave's feet and severed a small artery, but Dr. Eckard, the club physician, believes the wound will heal quickly.

It was a hard blow, however, and it was with a heavy heart that Manager Alex Sweeney picked up the glove and went for the sack. What Alex uncorbed was something of a revelation for instead of the game developing into a farce, the manager justified all kinds of life into the team, accepted 19 chances without a semblance of an error, and saw his team win by consistent hitting after first and furious fielding prevented the Engineers from scoring a run.

Both Jack Cotter and Dan Raley pitched well. Cotter had the best of his opponent. He hit two men and passed another, but allowed only seven hits. Some of these came at a bad time, but that did not daunt the Cokers.

In the first Sweeney's men played like wild. They took everything that came their way and held the score down by marvelous work. Catcher Makepeace, who joined the team to help out when Francis is convalescing, had not caught since Charlie exploded and made one bad play in the first inning. Then he settled down and played well. He hit Francis in a run, but his other work was so good that his mistakes were forgotten.

The Cokers did not begin to hit until the latter part of the game and made six of their 10 bingles in the last three sessions. Those six hits netted two of the four runs, too.

After two men were down in the opening inning, Grafton hit a slow bouncer to the pitcher, who made the heavy, but Grafton had crossed the plate, stepping on Calhoun's foot as he did so. That put Dave out of the running and Sweeney went in his place. The first thing done after play was resumed was a bad throw by Makepeace which let Grafton reach third, but Hinton walked and stole and the side went out when Raley hit a slow grounder to Sweeney.

Grafton was at a disadvantage working against a southpaw and batted right handed. He saw to Zinn, Hagan singled and Myers flew to Raley. Ike Francis hit to Warren and Hagan was forced at second.

Grafton's double, Warren's sacrifice and Raley's single netted Grafton a run in the second but the Cokers got it back in the latter half when Sweeney led off with a single, Chip Francis singled, Makepeace went out on an infield out and Cotter singled, his hard grounder getting away from Hinton.

Zinn's single and Ike Francis' boot of Raley's bad grounder got Sorry Dave Calhoun is laid up. He was hitting nice.

Hagan, Myers and Ike Francis had two hits each yesterday.
That man Makepeace fills in nice behind the bat. He is a big help.
Jack Cotter is getting some reputation as a pinch hitter. He brought in a run.

Grafton was at a disadvantage batting right handed but he was all there in the field.
Kid Hagan played the game every minute. Besides having a run and two hits, he handled four assists at the hot corner.

Dutch Myers anchored two hits, beat out a bunt and had a clean single. He also scored a much needed run.

Ike Francis had eight chances at short and tapped out a pair of singles. He is picking up in stick work.

Sweeney didn't have a chance in sight. He had a single and a sacrifice, though.
Chip Francis saved his lone single until the time it did most good. Chip won the game on his timely bingle.

Makepeace was unfortunate in not handling this ball safe. He hit it hard enough, but the Engineers were on the job each time.
Dan Raley was afraid of Alex Sweeney. He passed him the first two times up. Alex showed fine form on first base.

Jack Cotter had good curves, good control, and a good head. The combination proved effective in that tenth inning hole.
Robinson got into the game although he has a Charley horse. He didn't hit safely, but plugged a big hole in the infield.

Red Hinton isn't hitting against the Cokers but he is playing good ball at short.
Warren pulled off a loushead when he stole with a man on third. He didn't get to make the Cokers run him down between the sacks.

Uniontown pulled off some bonehead work yesterday, switched pitchers, and let Fairmont score seven runs in the last inning. The Champs had been ahead, too.

Those fans who predicted Almer Brown of the Cubs was on the slide have probably reconsidered. The Almer had the Pirates at his mercy yesterday.

After Monday the Cokers will be away all next week. They invade West Virginia. The Cokers have had a long sojourn of it at home and will look strange on the road.
After solving the Hunters safe at all stages, O'Dell, Uniontown's new twirler, was yanked after Carnes had muffed, and then it was all off for Uniontown yesterday.

Coker Cripples are only 12 points behind Unknown. Second place can be gained today if things break right.

SEEK WORK ELSEWHERE
Tin Workers Leave Plants, Which Are Closing Down Indefinitely.
New Castle, Pa., July 3.—Tin workers here are beginning to leave the city owing to the closing of the Greer and Shenango mills following the strike against the open shop order of the American Sheet and Tinplate company. They are chiefly young and unmarried men, who will seek work in other places. On July 17 the tin workers will get one more pay for work already done.

The company has drawn the war irons from the heating furnaces, as if for a long shutdown.

CORNELL SWEEPS RIVER
Wins All Boat Races and Breaks Two Records.

Poughkeepsie N. Y. July 3.—Cornell's stalwart crews made a clean sweep of the fifteenth annual regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing association. Just as those of Harvard won over Yale at New London. But Cornell did more than defeat the crews of the other four universities, she established two records for the two-mile course and in the varsity four-oared race and another in the freshman eight-oared race. Altogether it was a great day for the collegians from Ithaca and they are celebrating in true Cornell style.

Syracuse made the best showing next to Cornell taking second place in both the four-oared varsity race and the freshman race and third place in the varsity eight. Wisconsin, the only western university represented, had crews in but two races and finished in fourth place in each, while Pennsylvania's showing was the least creditable. Her crews finished last in both the varsity eight-oared race and the varsity four and took third place in the freshman race.

Columbia proved surprisingly strong in the big race, but could finish no better than fourth in the varsity four and last in the freshman race.

BURIED ALIVE 10 DAYS
Young Woman Suffers Terrible Experience and Survives

St. Gall, Switzerland, July 3.—A young woman who ten days ago was caught in a cave-in of a railroad tunnel, has been dug out alive.
She suffered agonies of cold and hunger during this period, but managed to sustain life by sucking moisture from her clothing on which water occasionally trickled. She continued calling for help until she finally was heard and rescued.

CHAMPION WOMAN WING SHOT, WHO AMAZES TRAP EXPERTS.

Mrs. Adolph Topperwein of San Francisco is the only woman who entered the Grand American handicap at Chicago, amazed the shotgun experts by her splendid shooting on that occasion. In a day's shooting preliminary to the handicap she finished second with a score of 96 out of 100 targets. Her best record is 93 out of 100, and she holds the record of having smashed 961 out of 1,000 thrown targets, a feat which required four hours and thirty-five minutes.

Mrs. Topperwein is now in Canada hunting against the best trap and wing shots in the Dominion. Later she will return to the United States and participate in the eastern handicaps.

Bank Robbers Obtain $10,000.
Winnipeg, Man., July 3.—The Bank of Nova Scotia at Rainy River, Ont., across the river from Warroad, Minn., was robbed of $10,000. Three men, armed with revolvers, held up Manager Templeton, who was alone. The robbers escaped. A posse is in pursuit. The cashier of the bank was shot in the leg while pursuing the men.

Jail Prisoners Work on Roads.
New Castle, Pa., July 3.—Sheriff J. W. Widdington set eleven jail prisoners at work on rural roads of the county. They are in charge of Joseph Spalla, an Italian wholesale fruit dealer serving a year's sentence for obtaining goods by false pretense. Spalla is proving an excellent foreman and makes the prisoners work.
